

Society Women Learn Hair Curling Secret

"If your hair is straight, flat, dull looking, I need not say you if you long to possess beautiful wavy hair, look no further," says Gladys Johnson, a Society Woman. "I'll tell you what to do. Tonight, after your hair is dry, take a small bottle of hair curling cream, dip it in a bowl of pure liquid etherine and run this through the hair from crown to tip.

"When morning comes and you have washed out the cream, you will find your hair wavy and soft. Your hair will keep in position and more natural-looking than ever. It will be soft and silky, and there will be nothing more to do. If you want the hair curling cream, get it from the Society Women's Store. It will last for months. This is just the finest thing imaginable for the purpose."

VALIDITY OF TRADING STAMPS WILL BE TESTED

Washington, Nov. 1.—The validity of anti-trading stamp legislation is said to depend on the outcome of arguments today before the supreme court over the constitutionality of such laws in the states of Florida and Washington.

Lawyers seeking to have the law annulled declare that last year $125,000,000 were given away as premiums and that the life of the business was at issue. They urge that the laws worked discrimination against one form of advertising and that other methods of advertising might with equal justice be stricken down arbitrarily if this one is forbidden.

PAIN FROM THE GRAVE PUTS THIS MAN ON RAW EDGE

ANDERSON PUGH'S LEG HAD CRAMPS AFTER IT WAS BURIED

Clintwood, Kan., Nov. 1.—A strange tale came from the grave of a man who died in the cemetery here. The man, Anderson Pugh, had suffered from a leg which had been buried in a coffin for several months. The leg was found in a state of extreme distress, and the man was said to have been in great pain.

About three weeks ago Anderson Pugh, a local employee of the Standard Oil company, had his leg amputated as a result of an accident. The leg was wrapped in grave cloth and buried by George Burt, the sexton of Oakhill cemetery. What happened after that time is told by Mr. Burt in his own way, and affirmed by Mrs. Burt, who was a witness to all that transpired.

Leg Was Cramped. "A few days ago," says Mr. Burt, "Anderson Pugh came to me and said, 'Burt, you have buried my leg in a cramped position, leaving a crease in the bottom of the foot, and it is giving me such pain that I want you to take it up, straighten it out, and bury it again.' He described the crease telling just how it ran across the bottom of the foot.

"Well, I went to the cemetery the next day and dug up the limb and sure enough I found that I had buried it so that it was cramped, leaving a crease in the foot just as Mr. Pugh had described. I straightened the member out, wrapped it in new cloth and replaced it in the grave. Mr. Pugh says that since that time he has not suffered the slightest pain from the missing leg.

Anderson Pugh, the man who lost the leg said that everything Sexton Burt had told was true. He declared that he had suffered constant pain from the time his leg was buried and the feeling had always been with him, that the leg was stiff and cramped until it had been unearthed and re-interred by the sexton, after which all pain had vanished.

Another Case Like It. Sexton Burt said this was the second case of the kind which had come under his observation. The other being that of Elmer Allen, an employee of the City Barber shop, who lost an arm in a railroad accident about four years ago. Young Allen, when seen yesterday, said that his arm had been buried with the hand doubled and the pains had become so severe that he was forced to go to Sexton Burt and request that he take up the member and straighten the fingers. This was done but such a space of time had elapsed that it was impossible to fully remedy the evil and Allen declared that the cramping sensation in the missing arm is always with him, becoming so pronounced at times at night that he will awaken from sleep and spring out of bed crying with pain.

TORTURED HERMIT TO DEATH FOR RICHES

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—The murder, twelve days ago, of Joseph Osborne, a hermit, was cleared up today, according to the police, by the confession of Joseph Merck, 16 years old. Merck confessed today, the police say, that he and Charles McWhitman, a year his senior, woke the old man up at 5:30 o'clock in the morning, asked him where his money was and when he refused to inform them, clipped off a piece of his ears with a pair of

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR THIS LITTLE PRINCE?

Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and the King.

This recent photograph of the King of Italy and his heir, Crown Prince Umberto, shows the affectionate disposition of the king and his family. The boy was not dressed in an Italian uniform, as is usual for the prince, but he wore a sweater, just like thousands of American boys.

He will succeed to the Italian throne in time. In the meantime, however, Italy is at war with the strongest nations of Europe. Defeat would mean that most of not all her northern provinces would be taken by Austria. The little prince might have nothing left except a few acres around Rome and the South.

MINOR INDIAN DEMANDS COIN AND HIS LAND

DEAD MADE BEFORE BOY WAS OF AGE; $60,000 INVOLVED

Hartsville, Ga., Nov. 2.—Another case where an Indian minor sold his land before his majority and now wishes to recover his land, secured about all the money in sight as damages, etc., was filed in district court yesterday. Franklin T. Lamar being the plaintiff and Albert B. Hall, of Marietta, the Sagamore Oil and Gas Co., and Manhattan Oil company being the defendants.

Lamar was asking only $60,000 and his original twenty acres of land. He is very modest in his claims, according to the opinion of court attaches and attorneys, but here is what the complaint set forth, so you can judge for yourself.

Lamar was a Cherokee and a portion of his allotment was the east half of the northeast of the southeast of 11-27-12. On August 14, 1908, he executed a bill of sale to Albert Hall for a sum not named. Later he gave two warranty deeds to the land to Hall, one dated October 8 and another October 12, 1908, also to Hall. He states that he was a minor when these transactions were made.

On April 15, 1911, he then being an adult, he delivered another warranty deed to the land to Hall.

Meanwhile, on October 27, 1908, Hall had delivered to the Sagamore Oil Co., an oil and gas mining lease and on October 1, 1914, Mr. Hall sold the land to the Manhattan Oil Co., giving a warranty deed for the same.

Now according to the contents of Lamar, all of these instruments were null and void, he not having the legal right to make or deliver them. From the time of the delivery of the first lease the land was drilled and developed for oil and gas and was productive. It is estimated that the production therefrom amounted to $60,000 and all of this sum he asks and also for a return of the land. He asserts that there was also some gas on the tract but he is willing to call it square if the land is returned as well as a matter of $60,000.

MARINES PLEAD FOR GIRLS TO "ADOPT" THEM.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2.—When the United States Marine corps forces, now occupying the towns and cities of Haiti after a sharp brush with the Cacos, learned that a number of Atlanta's fairest daughters were banded together for the purpose of adopting linesome and forlorn European soldiers, and would write letters of cheer sympathy and love to their warring wards, they became a trifle puffed to say the least.

The marines are perfectly willing to admit that "none but the brave deserve the fair" but they want to delve deeper into the corporeal maxims and add "America first" and "let charity begin at home." And furthermore, Uncle Sam's "soldiers" do not propose to have their own little "two by four" Haitian war overpowered by the immeasurable conflict raging across the ocean, and so have written to the editor of the "Constitution" pointing out the injustice of the thing in the hope that he, or some other editor who may chance to read their plea, will find meat in it.

for a scathing, scorching editorial that will bring the Atlanta girls back to their senses.

Here's the letter:

Editor Constitution:

Having learned through the wireless press news that the girls of your city have so generously and magnanimously shown their consideration for the forsaken and lonesome European soldiers by adopting these soldiers and sending them love and letters, we wish to ask you to tell the fair daughters of Atlanta through the columns of your paper that there are some of their own down in Haiti who are ready and willing to be adopted, and would welcome and appreciate such adoption.

Please tell them, also, that while there is no French warfare here, and no asphyxiating gases, that we are lonesome and even apologetic from the hands of a fair American would brighten a tedious and irksome life in the tropics. Also, Mr. Editor, it does look as though the colored brethren down here wouldn't be able to take over the reins of their government in less than two years, and we'll have to stay right here on the job.
